GERMANY SEEKS TO EVADE MONARCHIST COUP

GOVERNMENT CALLS FOR THE SUPPORT OF GERMAN NATION

SEE MENACE FROM REACTIONARY ORGANIZATIONS ALONG BAVARIAN BORDER

POLITICAL PARTIES TO ISSUE CALLS TO FOLLOWERS TO BE PREPARED

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 6.—Germany organized her forces to evade a threatened monarchist putsch.

President Ebert's proclamation warning suppression of any uprising and calling for public support was answered by socialist leaders who said they could furnish several hundred thousand former soldiers for the defense of the nation.

The government's call for the support of the nation awakened realization of the menace from the reactionary organization along the Bavarian border and elsewhere.

Political parties prepared to issue the call today or tomorrow to all their followers "to be prepared" if the government calls.

They altered the call to one of preparedness instead of a direct call to arms because Chancellor Stresemann and Minister of Defense Gessler opposed the use of the socialist "black, red and gold hundreds."

JEWISH RIOTS MAY CHANGE TO POGROM

Berlin, Nov.6 —Jewish riots which at times threatened to develop into an actual pogrom raged in Berlin throughout the night and continued today in many parts of the city.

An noon police reports said that there had been one hundred individual cases of plundering during the night and such outrages were still gonig on in a greater or less degree.

Hundreds of Jews, many of them with bloody wounds and torn garments testifying to their mistreatment fled in panic from Berlin this morning. These refugees stumbling, many wading and others evidently dazed at what had happened, joined in a great exodus, spurred on by the distant yelling of the mobs.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO RETAKE AIX LA CHAPELLE

Berlin, Nov. 6. — Herr Mathes, "president of the Rhineland republic," has announced unofficially the intention of the republicans of retaking Aix La Chapelle, a dispatch from Cologne said today.

"MONEY BOOTLEGGERS" ATTACKED IN BERLIN

Berlin, Nov. 6.—Jewish "money bootleggers" were caught in the Tauenzien Strasse and when forced to undress American dollars and English pounds were found hidden in their underwear, collars and hat bands.

At 3 p. m. police estimated the number of shops looted in the city at 1,000.

Attacks on Jews were being carried out by organized bands of ten or twenty.

Windows in many shops were smashed, stores were plundered, Jews held up on the streets and their clothing ripped from them while the rioting was at its height.

Garment shops and bread and meat stores in the Jewish districts were looted.

The mob, many of them apparently working under a sort of discipline, were especially active in the Grenadier Strasse and the Muenz Strasse where pawn shops and thieves fences are plentiful.

Galacians were singled out as an object of special revenge.

ALBERTA FARMERS AND TOWNSFOLK VOTE FOR LIQUOR AND BEER

(By United Press)

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 6.—Alberta farmers and townsfolk alike hold for liquor and beer.

After seven dry years in which bootleggers flourished, the populace voted overwhelmingly Monday for government sale of all liquor. Returns today indicated the majority for Clause D, making such a revision, will be between 35,000 and 40,000.

SELL LIQUOR THROUGH GOVERNMENT VENDORS

The rural ridings which were expected to vote dry turned in big wet majorities and in several instances towns and cities were all wet by substantial margins.

Passage of the law means that beer, wines and liquor must be sold through government vendors. Beer must be consumed on licensed premises or in private residences.

Wines and spirits may be purchased in limited quantities under permits issued by the government and delivered anywhere.

Leaders of the moderation league which fought for adoption of the new regulations assert this does not mean the return of the saloon. It is plain, however, that liquor and beer will be more easily obtained and will be considerably more reasonable in price. A large revenue will accrue to the government through the operation of the law.

SENSATIONAL ESCAPE, SHOOTING, ETC., AT EASTERN PENITENTIARY, PA.

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Two armed convicts are at large today following a sensational escape from the Eastern penitentiary late last night in which a third convict was shot and killed and a fourth caught outside the prison walls.

Four prisoners were returning to their cells from work when one convict jumped into a passageway and opened fire on Hugh O'Neil, guard.

The three others attacked Joseph Gilbert, guard at the penitentiary gate felling him with a revolver butt.

As Gilbert fell he drew his revolver and turned it at the jail breakers. A bullet struck Joseph Larrimer, alias Morgan, 25 years old, in the head, killing him instantly. Larrimer was serving eight to ten years for burglary.

The convicts who attacked O'Neil secured the keys to the outer gate and rushed up the street.

Running up the street the three convicts separated with prison guards in close pursuit. George Duback, 29, serving ten years, ran into a blind alley lessthan a block from the penitentiary. Guards closed in and quickly clubbed him into submission.

The two other men, Francis C. Flynn and Emil Bladleim, 38, both long term burglars, made good their escape and are still at liberty early today.

The men at large were described by police as desperate and armed.

CONFERENCE OF DRY OFFICERS

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—J. A. O. Preus is expected to issue a call tomorrow for a state-wide conference of liquor law enforcement officers.

Coordination of enforcement work as outlined by President Coolidge at a conference of governors in Washington last month is to be the subject of the conference.

Governor Preus declined to make any statement after a two-hour conference with F. T. Qvale, Minnesota prohibition director, this morning. He said he would probably issue a statement tomorrow.

YEGGS WRECK THE KLOSSNER STATE BANK, GET $3,000

TOWNSPEOPLE WATCH THE OPERATIONS, TOO FRIGHTENED TO INTERFERE

FOURTH SHOT BLEW SAFE DOOR THROUGH FRONT OF BUILDING AND ACROSS STREET

(By United Press)

New Ulm, Minn., Nov. 6—Yeggs wrecked the Klossner State Bank vault with four charges of nitro-glycerine early today and escaped with about $3,000 in cash and liberty bonds.

More than a dozen townspeople, too frightened to act, witnessed their operations.

After three attempts to open the safe with light charges, the yeggs fired a fourth charge so heavy that the bank was wrecked. Part of the safe door crashed through the front of the building and partially wrecked a soft drink parlor across the street.

Cashier George Vetter, sitting up with a sick baby, saw the yeggs, of whom there were four or five, arrive in the town. They drove an auto and turned off the lights as they reached his home. Then they drove around the bank and parked their car about three blocks down the street. It was 3 a. m.

Vetter saw them climb telephone poles and cut all telephone wires leading into and out of town. He knew a robbery was in the making.

Soon after he heard the first explosion. Other residents of the town were also awakened. Frank Kosch, village blacksmith, and his wife sat in a window and watched the yeggs work.

Martin Schnobrich, proprietor of the soft drink parlor and restaurant also watched the whole performance with his wife from across the street. Four men employed on highway construction and staying at his place were also witnesses. Others who could not get a view of the bank saw the bandits leaving.

The four explosions were so heavy that every man, woman and child in the village of 40 or more were aroused. Some thought an earthquake had struck the place.

The yeggs ran to their automobile and drove to Cortland where the trail was lost. Cashier Vetter and Kosch jumped into a small car and drove to New Ulm.

Sheriff W. J. Julius of Brown county and Chief of Police Alvin Harmening of New Ulm accompanied them back to Klossner and tried to trail the yeggs.

Sheriff Norman of Nicolett county was notified and took charge of the investigation.

BANK AT MABEL ROBBED OF $1,000

Preston, Minn., Nov. 6.—Bandits early today looted the First National Bank at Mabel, Fillmore county, of $1,000, mostly in silver.

The robbery was discovered at 6:30 a. m. when a passerby noticed an open door and window of the bank.

The bank's safe was completely wrecked and damage to the building was estimated at $1,000.

Telephone wires were cut and the robbery conducted much in the same way that the bank at Klossner was robbed earlier in the day. Sheriff Cyrus Christianson, Preston, is investigating.

DICTIONARY AND SPECTACLE CASE SAVED HIS LIFE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—Police today continued their search for the companion of a bandit captured in a drug store last night after he had fired three shots at a detective.

Detective Robert Volkman's life was saved by a vest pocket dictionary and a spectacle case in his pocket. One bullet penetrated the two articles and dropped inside the lining of his vest. The shooting occurred at the drug store of M. D. Murphy. Hyman Berkowitz, a small boy, saw the bandits holding the proprietor under cover, and called police. When Detectives Volkman and LaValle arrived they grappled with one of the bandits who gave his name as E. Mitchell. The other escaped.

10,000,000 YEAR OLD EGGS OF DINOSAUR PASS THROUGH N. W.

ASIATIC EXPEDITION HEAD IN MINNEAPOLIS AFTER RESEARCH IN MONGOLIA

FINDING OF TRACES OF PRIMITIVE MAN FORECAST IN "GARDEN OF EDEN"

Minneapolis, Nov. 6.—Two dozen dinosaur eggs, taken from storage where they had lain 10,000,000 years, passed through Minneapolis yesterday, the first consignment of nine tons of scientific treasures going from Mongolia to New York to prove that the Garden of Eden was in Central Asia.

The eggs, six inches long, elliptical in form, some of them containing embryo dinosaurs which would have become 80 foot reptiles if they had been given a chance, followed by express a short visit by Roy Chapman Andrews, head of the Asiatic expedition which just has completed its third year of work in Mongolia. Mr. Andrews passed through Minneapolis on his way to arrange a new expedition next summer, when airplanes will supplement automobiles, in the modernized expedition of scientists in their search for the 'missing link.'

Traces of Primitive Man Sighted

"Traces of primitive man will be found in Central Asia," Mr. Andrews predicted. "Our expedition next summer may not find him, as such bones are scarce, but conditions which we discovered there convinced me that the Mongolian table land must have been the paleontological Garden of Eden, and sooner or later I am sure remains of the 'missing link' will be found there."

The expedition, sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History, the American Asiatic association and Asia magazine, proved conclusively, according to Mr. Andrews, that:

The Central Asia plateau saw the origin of the animal life of both Europe and America.

A broad land bridge existed between Asia and America, undoubtedly at the Bering strait, over which animals and men passed in both directions.

In the cretaceous age, or age of reptiles, 10,000,000 years ago, Mongolia was an ideal fertile tableland, a veritable Garden of Eden, while Europe and America were like two empty rafts afloat.

"We found that Mongolia is the greatest fossil field in the world," Mr. Andrews said. "We merely scratched the surface of its possibilities, but next time, with an enlarged staff, more automobiles and an airplane for reconnaisance over the rolling, open country, we expect to accomplish much more. Our greatest actual discovery was the finding of the dinosaur eggs, and these together with the skeletons we found prove conclusively that the ancestors of the American dinosaurs were in Asia."

Ten years' work was crowded into two seasons by means of automobiles, according to Mr. Andrews. Although there were no roads, the flatness of the Gobi desert, with a hard surface, made driving possible almost everywhere, and the cars traveled 6,000 miles. The automobiles were aided by 75 camels, which carried the gasoline, oil, food and the fossils. The party included eight American scientists, nine Mongols and nine Chinese.

Camel Originally American

"It was a great all-American expedition," Mr. Andrews said. "The men were American, the cars were American, our equipment was American, and scientists have proved that camels were originally American animals."

Among the discoveries of the expedition was the skull of a baluchitherium, a browsing rhinoceros, which was 24 feet long, 12 feet high at the shoulders, with a reach of 22 feet. The largest known carnivore, a giant hyena, also was discovered. It was 30 feet long, and had a mouth that opened two feet. Large numbers of skulls and skeletons of various kinds, as wel as large collections of mammals of zoological interest, were uncovered.

Movie of Wild Ass Taken

"One of the most amusing experiences we had was with our motion picture machine, with which we took many reels of motion pictures," Mr. Andrews said. "One of our achievements was to 'snap' the only wild ass that ever has been caught by motion picture. We chased him 29 miles in an automobile before we could get him, and for the first 16 miles he averaged 30 miles an hour."

Professor Henry Fairchild Osborne and his wife, who are associated with the museum but did not accompany the expedition into Mongolia, were with Mr. Andrews as far as St. Paul. Mr. Andrews left for Beloit, Wis., last night to visit his mother before going to New York, to arrange a lecture tour this winter. His wife, formerly Yvonne Borup of St. Paul, remained in Peking.

PREMIER POINCARE ADHERES TO HIS REPARATIONS STAND

(By United Press)

Paris, Nov. 6.—Premier Poincare will adhere to his reparations position despite attempts by the allies to hold a conference without him, semi-official sources said today.

The declaration was made in connection with rumors current here and in London that the next step by England if the present inquiry fails would be to call a conference with France's absence, foreshadowed by General Smuts.

BELGIUM TRIES TO HARMONIZE VIEWS

London, Nov. 6—The Belgian government is trying to bring French and British views on the proposed reparations inquiries into line, it was indicated in a semi-official statement dispatches from Dusseldorf said today.

The statements descried reports of a "Franco-Belgian pension" emanating from Paris and explained the Brussels government was "following a policy of its own."

While this policy was not exactly similar to that of Paris, the statement said it was pursued with the object of bringing London and Paris into agreement.

WINNIPEG MAN TUNNELS OUT LIKE BEAVER FROM OVERTURNED CAR

(By United Press)

St. Cloud, Minn., Nov. 6.—Imprisoned for two hours under a heavy touring car which hurtled into a creek, Harry Wilson, 34, Winnipeg, had only two inches of breathing space between the car floor and the waters of the stream.

In this terrifying position, Wilson worked like a beaver and finally dug away enough sand to escape from his uncanny prison.

Securing the help of H. F. Thielman, a farmer, the car was moved and Wilson found his companion, W. W. Dart, Winnipeg band master, was dead.

All the while he was imprisoned, Wilson could touch the body of Dart but could not tell if he was dead or alive, for his ears were beneath the waters and he could hear nothing.

The two were enroute from Winnipeg to the Twin Cities. The car skidded in loose gravel, crashed into a bridge and hurtled into the creek between two lakes near Avon, 12 miles northwest of here.

WEST VIRGINIA MINE IS SCENE OF THE TRAGEDY

ABOUT 75 WORKERS WERE IN GLEN ROGERS MINE WHEN CATASTROPHE OCCURRED

TWENTY-FIVE WERE BROUGHT TO SURFACE UNINJURED, FATE OF REST IN DOUBT

(By United Press)

Beckley, W. Va., Nov. 6.—An explosion of undetermined origin entombed more than 35 miners in Glen Rogers coal mine of the Raleigh Coal company near here today.

Approximately 75 workers were in the mine when the explosion occurred. Twenty-five were brought to the surface uninjured.

First reports from the mine said the fate of the others was in doubt.

R. M. Lambie, chief of the state bureau of mines, was reported en route here with rescue equipment.

The workers had been down in the mine only a short time when the blast came.

Women and children of the mining camps rushed to the opening of the Glen Rogers shaft at the first alarm. They saw the first 25 come to the surface.

12 Bodies Recovered

Twelve bodies have been recovered from the pit of the Raleigh Wyoming Coal company Glen Rogers coal mine near here which was wrecked by an explosion this morning, according to a statement issued at noon today by company officials.

Thirty men are believed still entombed, the statement said.

WHITNEY TO GO TO HIS HOME SOON

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—A. E. Whitney, prohibition officer injured in a New Munich beer raid recently, will return to his home in St. Paul Thursday.

He will be introduced for the first time to Virginia Elizabeth Whitney, his 11-day-old daughter.

Announcement that Whitney will be sufficiently recovered by Thursday to make the trip, has been made by attendants at the St. Raphiel hospital, St. Cloud, where he was confined, according to messages received this morning by H. L. Duncan, northwest prohibition director.

It is believed that the action to gain annulment of the marriage of Whitney to his present wife which was started by Mrs. Louelia Whitney, a former wife now living in Grafton, N. D., will be dropped. A statement that an official decree for the separation of Whitney and Mrs. Louella Whitney was given in a Grand Forks court July 17, 1923, has been received by T. M. Strickler, attorney for Mrs. Ann Whitney, the present wife of the agent.

10,000,000 YEAR OLD EGGS OF DINOSAUR PASS THROUGH N. W.

ASIATIC EXPEDITION HEAD IN MINNEAPOLIS AFTER RESEARCH IN MONGOLIA

FINDING OF TRACES OF PRIMITIVE MAN FORECAST IN "GARDEN OF EDEN"

Minneapolis, Nov. 6.—Two dozen dinosaur eggs, taken from storage where they had lain 10,000,000 years, passed through Minneapolis yesterday, the first consignment of nine tons of scientific treasures going from Mongolia to New York to prove that the Garden of Eden was in Central Asia.

The eggs, six inches long, elliptical in form, some of them containing embryo dinosaurs which would have become 80 foot reptiles if they had been given a chance, followed by express a short visit by Roy Chapman Andrews, head of the Asiatic expedition which just has completed its third year of work in Mongolia. Mr. Andrews passed through Minneapolis on his way to arrange a new expedition next summer, when airplanes will supplement automobiles, in the modernized expedition of scientists in their search for the 'missing link.'

Traces of Primitive Man Sighted

"Traces of primitive man will be found in Central Asia," Mr. Andrews predicted. "Our expedition next summer may not find him, as such bones are scarce, but conditions which we discovered there convinced me that the Mongolian table land must have been the paleontological Garden of Eden, and sooner or later I am sure remains of the 'missing link' will be found there."

The expedition, sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History, the American Asiatic association and Asia magazine, proved conclusively, according to Mr. Andrews, that:

The Central Asia plateau saw the origin of the animal life of both Europe and America.

A broad land bridge existed between Asia and America, undoubtedly at the Bering strait, over which animals and men passed in both directions.

In the cretaceous age, or age of reptiles, 10,000,000 years ago, Mongolia was an ideal fertile tableland, a veritable Garden of Eden, while Europe and America were like two empty rafts afloat.

"We found that Mongolia is the greatest fossil field in the world," Mr. Andrews said. "We merely scratched the surface of its possibilities, but next time, with an enlarged staff, more automobiles and an airplane for reconnaisance over the rolling, open country, we expect to accomplish much more. Our greatest actual discovery was the finding of the dinosaur eggs, and these together with the skeletons we found prove conclusively that the ancestors of the American dinosaurs were in Asia."

Ten years' work was crowded into two seasons by means of automobiles, according to Mr. Andrews. Although there were no roads, the flatness of the Gobi desert, with a hard surface, made driving possible almost everywhere, and the cars traveled 6,000 miles. The automobiles were aided by 75 camels, which carried the gasoline, oil, food and the fossils. The party included eight American scientists, nine Mongols and nine Chinese.

Camel Originally American

"It was a great all-American expedition," Mr. Andrews said. "The men were American, the cars were American, our equipment was American, and scientists have proved that camels were originally American animals."

Among the discoveries of the expedition was the skull of a baluchitherium, a browsing rhinoceros, which was 24 feet long, 12 feet high at the shoulders, with a reach of 22 feet. The largest known carnivore, a giant hyena, also was discovered. It was 30 feet long, and had a mouth that opened two feet. Large numbers of skulls and skeletons of various kinds, as wel as large collections of mammals of zoological interest, were uncovered.

Movie of Wild Ass Taken

"One of the most amusing experiences we had was with our motion picture machine, with which we took many reels of motion pictures," Mr. Andrews said. "One of our achievements was to 'snap' the only wild ass that ever has been caught by motion picture. We chased him 29 miles in an automobile before we could get him, and for the first 16 miles he averaged 30 miles an hour."

Professor Henry Fairchild Osborne and his wife, who are associated with the museum but did not accompany the expedition into Mongolia, were with Mr. Andrews as far as St. Paul. Mr. Andrews left for Beloit, Wis., last night to visit his mother before going to New York, to arrange a lecture tour this winter. His wife, formerly Yvonne Borup of St. Paul, remained in Peking.

PREMIER POINCARE ADHERES TO HIS REPARATIONS STAND

(By United Press)

Paris, Nov. 6.—Premier Poincare will adhere to his reparations position despite attempts by the allies to hold a conference without him, semi-official sources said today.

The declaration was made in connection with rumors current here and in London that the next step by England if the present inquiry fails would be to call a conference with France's absence, foreshadowed by General Smuts.

BELGIUM TRIES TO HARMONIZE VIEWS

London, Nov. 6—The Belgian government is trying to bring French and British views on the proposed reparations inquiries into line, it was indicated in a semi-official statement dispatches from Dusseldorf said today.

The statements descried reports of a "Franco-Belgian pension" emanating from Paris and explained the Brussels government was "following a policy of its own."

While this policy was not exactly similar to that of Paris, the statement said it was pursued with the object of bringing London and Paris into agreement.

HAS TWO INCHES OF BREATHING SPACE

WINNIPEG MAN TUNNELS OUT LIKE BEAVER FROM OVERTURNED CAR

(By United Press)

St. Cloud, Minn., Nov. 6.—Imprisoned for two hours under a heavy touring car which hurtled into a creek, Harry Wilson, 34, Winnipeg, had only two inches of breathing space between the car floor and the waters of the stream.

In this terrifying position, Wilson worked like a beaver and finally dug away enough sand to escape from his uncanny prison.

Securing the help of H. F. Thielman, a farmer, the car was moved and Wilson found his companion, W. W. Dart, Winnipeg band master, was dead.

All the while he was imprisoned, Wilson could touch the body of Dart but could not tell if he was dead or alive, for his ears were beneath the waters and he could hear nothing.

The two were enroute from Winnipeg to the Twin Cities. The car skidded in loose gravel, crashed into a bridge and hurtled into the creek between two lakes near Avon, 12 miles northwest of here.

WEST VIRGINIA MINE IS SCENE OF THE TRAGEDY

ABOUT 75 WORKERS WERE IN GLEN ROGERS MINE WHEN CATASTROPHE OCCURRED

TWENTY-FIVE WERE BROUGHT TO SURFACE UNINJURED, FATE OF REST IN DOUBT

(By United Press)

Beckley, W. Va., Nov. 6.—An explosion of undetermined origin entombed more than 35 miners in Glen Rogers coal mine of the Raleigh Coal company near here today.

Approximately 75 workers were in the mine when the explosion occurred. Twenty-five were brought to the surface uninjured.

First reports from the mine said the fate of the others was in doubt.

R. M. Lambie, chief of the state bureau of mines, was reported en route here with rescue equipment.

The workers had been down in the mine only a short time when the blast came.

Women and children of the mining camps rushed to the opening of the Glen Rogers shaft at the first alarm. They saw the first 25 come to the surface.

12 Bodies Recovered

Twelve bodies have been recovered from the pit of the Raleigh Wyoming Coal company Glen Rogers coal mine near here which was wrecked by an explosion this morning, according to a statement issued at noon today by company officials.

Thirty men are believed still entombed, the statement said.

WHITNEY TO GO TO HIS HOME SOON

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—A. E. Whitney, prohibition officer injured in a New Munich beer raid recently, will return to his home in St. Paul Thursday.

He will be introduced for the first time to Virginia Elizabeth Whitney, his 11-day-old daughter.

Announcement that Whitney will be sufficiently recovered by Thursday to make the trip, has been made by attendants at the St. Raphiel hospital, St. Cloud, where he was confined, according to messages received this morning by H. L. Duncan, northwest prohibition director.

It is believed that the action to gain annulment of the marriage of Whitney to his present wife which was started by Mrs. Louelia Whitney, a former wife now living in Grafton, N. D., will be dropped. A statement that an official decree for the separation of Whitney and Mrs. Louella Whitney was given in a Grand Forks court July 17, 1923, has been received by T. M. Strickler, attorney for Mrs. Ann Whitney, the present wife of the agent.

WALTON CARRIES HIS CASE TO FEDERAL COURT

(By United Press)

Lawton, Okla., Nov. 6.—J. C. Walton, suspended governor of Oklahoma, today carried his case to the federal court.

Alleging a conspiracy to remove him from office as governor, Walton through his attorneys asked a writ of injunction and a restraining order from federal court against members of the legislature, H. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma Klan, Acting Governor M. E. Trapp and others, preventing his impeachment.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE NEW PARK

New Policy of Booking Supplies Attraction on Wednesdays and Thursdays

ONLY HIGH CLASS ACTS

Headliner This Week Will be Eddie Russell in Clog and Novelty Dancing

The New Park theatre has altered its policy in its Wednesday and Thursday bookings to the extent of adding special vaudeville acts that will come to Brainerd immediately following their engagements in some of the leading twin city theatres.

Beginning this week, the new policy will continue on each Wednesday and Thursday throughout the season, if Brainerd theatre goers, by their patronage, show that they wish this kind of entertainment.

The regular Wednesday and Thursday special feature pictures will be shown as usual, in conjunction with the vaudeville act, giving its patrons a big double show at regular prices. It is the intention of the management to present one long act of vaudeville or two shorter acts, each week.

For Wednesday and Thursday of this week, as a headliner, Eddie Russell will appear in clog and novelty dancing, in monologue and singing. A number of Brainerd people have heard Russell before, and are loud in their praise of his stage work. The other act is Dunn and Dunn, the American song birds, with all the latest popular song hits. They come highly recommended as versitile artists who are bound to please.

In conjunction with these high-class acts, the New Park will present this week Milton Sills and Carmel Meyers in "The Last Hour," a motion picture said to be as good as "The Miracle Man," the picture that made Thomas Meighan famous.

The management of the New Park being firm believers in giving the public quality and quantity entertainment, are adding to that a feature that will be appreciated by all: regular prices.

LODGE HONORS MEMBER

Aurora Lodge Officers Present Past Master's Jewel of Masons to A. J. Starritt

The present officers of Aurora Lodge, No. 100, A. F. & A. M., together with a number of past masters and members, numbering about fifteen in all, presented A. J. Starritt the present master, with the beautiful past master's jewel of the order, the event taking place at the Windsor hotel, Mr. Starritt's home, on Friday evening.

The presentation of the jewel was made by Past Master Elmer Forsberg, and the recipient responded as best he could under the conditions, the gift being a complete surprise.

Mr. Starritt has been confined to his bed for some little time, and appreciates the honor which his lodge has conferred upon him.

Splendid Dinner and Meeting Anticipated by Business Men's Association Nov. 8th

AT CIVIC & COMMERCE ROOMS

Association Will Take up Important Bylaws, Discuss Fire Insurance Rates, Etc.

Tickets for the next dinner of the Brainerd Business Men's association, Thursday evening, 6:30 o'clock, at the Civic & Commerce rooms, lead off with the statement, "Oh You Fried Chicken." Al Beaver, chef, operating under the direction of A. O. Peterson, made such a success of the last dinner that 75 business men have already bought tickets for this event and the much longed for 100 per cent attendance as requested by President Con O'Brien now seems on the eve of fulfillment.

With the chicken goes the rest of the bill of fare which made such a hit last time.

The association has several important by-laws up for consideration. It is also desired to discuss fire insurance rates and conditions, to settle the hours of opening and closing stores, as well as other important matters of interest to the business men.

Members should make their reservations early as the supply of chicken will be limited to the tickets disposed of. Tickets can be obtained of any director or at the association office.

The ladies aid of the First Congregational church will be entertained by Circle Two in the church social rooms at 3 p. m. Wednesday.

Two High Class Vaudeville Acts at New Park on Wednesday and Thursday. Regular Prices

In conjunction with the special picture, "The Last Hour," the New Park will present on Wednesday and Thursday two high class vaudeville acts. "Thundering Dawn" Now Playing Here Massive Spectacle of Java

Java, melting pot of the Pacific, and one of the strangest and least known of lands, was visited, and months of research into accounts of explorers prepared the way for the filming of "Thundering Dawn," the big thrill spectacle filmed for Universal by Harry Garson. Incidentally, one of the best known screen actresses in America qualified as research expert for the picture, for much of the detail is due to the aid of Clara Kimball Young, who passed months in Java, Burma and the Orient, on her recent round-the-world trip, and who volunteered her services to help prepare the spectacle.

Every possible nationality is represented in the strange population of Java, a tropical country of strange resorts and strange people, some outcasts in their own land, some adventurers, some representatives of commercial interets—and all stricken with the virus of the tropics — a queer charm that leads men far afield.

"Thundering Dawn" will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre for the last time tonight.

Cameramen of "The Leopardess" Takes Unusual Risk

Gilbert Warrenton, screen cameraman, who photographed Alice Brady's latest Paramount picture, "The Leopardess," which will open at the Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday to remain for two days, experienced thrills galore during the filming of that production. How would you like to stand in the path of a charging leopardess and grind a camera until it was almost on top of you? Well, that was one of Warrenton's many perilous jobs, but he did his work well as the picture evidences.

THERE IS SOMETHING WRONG IN EUROPE

SPEAKING recently at the unveiling of a monument to soldiers who died in the World war, Premier Poincare of France said that the French soldiers died to win the treaty of Versailles and that the provisions of that treaty must be in no way changed. This he said at a time when the government of the United States has, after a long silence, spoken about the possibility of dealing with the reparations question with a view to determining what Germany can pay.

At the time when M. Poincare was expressing such sentiments the American press was calling upon the people of the United States to consider giving millions of dollars to keep the people of Germany from starving to death during this winter, and tourists returning from Europe were painting dark pictures of conditions within Germany, which by threatening starvation are also threatening revolution, for revolution feeds on hunger.

There is something wrong in Europe. There is something wrong that must be righted. If the French soldiers died to secure the writing of a treaty that would bring the German people into a condition of dire need, with starvation threatening them, it was not for this that American soldiers laid down their lives in France. American youth was stirred by stories of horrors in Northern France and Belgium, horrors arising from the barbarous practices of the German forces. These things could not be excused, though they were done in the heat of conflict, but today France is pursuing a cold, calculating policy that is inviting the death of German people and the possibility of a civil war with the deaths of thousands, and is doing it under the cloak of self-protection. It is certain, however, that with these facts before them American soldiers will not agree that it was for this that they crossed the seas.

And why should America be required to pay millions of dollars to keep the German people from starvation? The nation whose policy is responsible for the condition in Germany has not attempted to refund her indebtedness, and America, which has received nothing in return for the wealth advanced, is to come along at the finish and act the good Samaritan when another nation's policy has thrown men, starved and hopeless, by the wayside.

America will come to the aid of the German people and her ministry of mercy will be one of the redeeming ministries in a world whose policies are futile and whose leadership is weak. Ministries of mercy are all right in their place, but ministries of mercy merely save the lives of those crushed by men or systems and until these are dealt with the trouble is not removed by the deeds of a good Samaritan.

Secretary Hughes is holding to the position that the conference of experts must not be restricted to the limits specified by M. Poincare and there is a growing conviction in America that Secretary Hughes is right in his stand. It may yet be that America will save Europe from itself. America's independent position, resulting from her aloofness from European politics, enables her to take a position and to hold it when it has been taken, while the nations of Europe are forced to shift frequently and shilly-shally because of the complicated political situation in which they find themselves.

It is splendid that the American heart responds to the appeal of human need anywhere, but it will be better if the American head asks a few pertinent questions about a policy that is responsible for the need. If a change in policy will remove the need, then why not change the policy and remove the necessity of relieving the distress resulting from it? It may be cheaper to start at the right place, which is where the trouble begins.

THE SUSPICIOUS HIRAM JOHNSON

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON has said, according to the newspapers, that Lloyd George's visit to the United States is a "bold plan, by cleverness and nimbleness of wit" to bring the United States to the point where she will help Europe to collect its debts.

It is really astonishing what the suspicious can see, and it is quite as astonishing that for some reason they measure others, possibly according to their own measure and impute motives to them which are never good but always touched by something mean or mercenary.

How few there are who have kept in touch with contemporary events who will see as Hiram sees. Of course, such stuff may appeal to those who are willing to look upon other peoples with suspicion, and to allow those who so often see evil in others to be their guides in their attitudes to other nations. Intelligence is against Hiram, decency is against the senator and the facts are against him. Anyone who has followed the history of events in the past few months are aware that Britain agreed to a large reduction in the amount that Germany would be asked to pay, and the senator might have suggested that this country has certain monies coming from Europe which up to this time the nations of Europe have not mentioned, with one exception, and the exception is the nation from which the statesman comes against whom Senator Johnson levels his guns.

It is just this kind of stuff that is responsible for the troubles of Europe today—the stuff of suspicion and lack of trust. Suspicion poisons life, and the American people are largely above suspicion. Of course, such remarks will go well with certain elements in our life, the German population of the United States, and some other elements will be pleased to have such suspicions voiced by a United States senator, but if Senator Johnson thinks that this kind of thing is going as far as it did in 1920 he has another guess coming.

There are people who once followed Senator Johnson who are becoming suspicious of the suspicious senator, for they are beginning to think that one who is so generally suspicious of the actions and attitudes of those outside of his group must be without those qualities of leadership and statesmanship that are required of a leader, of even a senator, for a man who is characteristically suspicious of others is without that confidence in human nature which will enable him to work with others. Suspicion and lack of faith are terrible defects in character, for men live by faith in all of life's relationships and when it breaks down the destruction of the world order is at hand.

THERE IS SOMETHING WRONG IN EUROPE

SPEAKING recently at the unveiling of a monument to soldiers who died in the World war, Premier Poincare of France said that the French soldiers died to win the treaty of Versailles and that the provisions of that treaty must be in no way changed. This he said at a time when the government of the United States has, after a long silence, spoken about the possibility of dealing with the reparations question with a view to determining what Germany can pay.

At the time when M. Poincare was expressing such sentiments the American press was calling upon the people of the United States to consider giving millions of dollars to keep the people of Germany from starving to death during this winter, and tourists returning from Europe were painting dark pictures of conditions within Germany, which by threatening starvation are also threatening revolution, for revolution feeds on hunger.

There is something wrong in Europe. There is something wrong that must be righted. If the French soldiers died to secure the writing of a treaty that would bring the German people into a condition of dire need, with starvation threatening them, it was not for this that American soldiers laid down their lives in France. American youth was stirred by stories of horrors in Northern France and Belgium, horrors arising from the barbarous practices of the German forces. These things could not be excused, though they were done in the heat of conflict, but today France is pursuing a cold, calculating policy that is inviting the death of German people and the possibility of a civil war with the deaths of thousands, and is doing it under the cloak of self-protection. It is certain, however, that with these facts before them American soldiers will not agree that it was for this that they crossed the seas.

And why should America be required to pay millions of dollars to keep the German people from starvation? The nation whose policy is responsible for the condition in Germany has not attempted to refund her indebtedness, and America, which has received nothing in return for the wealth advanced, is to come along at the finish and act the good Samaritan when another nation's policy has thrown men, starved and hopeless, by the wayside.

America will come to the aid of the German people and her ministry of mercy will be one of the redeeming ministries in a world whose policies are futile and whose leadership is weak. Ministries of mercy are all right in their place, but ministries of mercy merely save the lives of those crushed by men or systems and until these are dealt with the trouble is not removed by the deeds of a good Samaritan.

Secretary Hughes is holding to the position that the conference of experts must not be restricted to the limits specified by M. Poincare and there is a growing conviction in America that Secretary Hughes is right in his stand. It may yet be that America will save Europe from itself. America's independent position, resulting from her aloofness from European politics, enables her to take a position and to hold it when it has been taken, while the nations of Europe are forced to shift frequently and shilly-shally because of the complicated political situation in which they find themselves.

It is splendid that the American heart responds to the appeal of human need anywhere, but it will be better if the American head asks a few pertinent questions about a policy that is responsible for the need. If a change in policy will remove the need, then why not change the policy and remove the necessity of relieving the distress resulting from it? It may be cheaper to start at the right place, which is where the trouble begins.

THE SUSPICIOUS HIRAM JOHNSON

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON has said, according to the newspapers, that Lloyd George's visit to the United States is a "bold plan, by cleverness and nimbleness of wit" to bring the United States to the point where she will help Europe to collect its debts.

It is really astonishing what the suspicious can see, and it is quite as astonishing that for some reason they measure others, possibly according to their own measure and impute motives to them which are never good but always touched by something mean or mercenary.

How few there are who have kept in touch with contemporary events who will see as Hiram sees. Of course, such stuff may appeal to those who are willing to look upon other peoples with suspicion, and to allow those who so often see evil in others to be their guides in their attitudes to other nations. Intelligence is against Hiram, decency is against the senator and the facts are against him. Anyone who has followed the history of events in the past few months are aware that Britain agreed to a large reduction in the amount that Germany would be asked to pay, and the senator might have suggested that this country has certain monies coming from Europe which up to this time the nations of Europe have not mentioned, with one exception, and the exception is the nation from which the statesman comes against whom Senator Johnson levels his guns.

CITY WATER FOR WEST BRAINERD

City Council Concurs in Plans Broached by the Water & Light Board

RENAMING OF CITY STREETS

Referred to Street Committee. Chartered Accountants to Audit City Books

The city council, in its regular meeting on Monday night, concurred in the plans of the Water and Light Board for providing city water to West Brainerd. A communication from residents in this section was read at the council meeting, in regard to the water situation there. Several plans have been put forth by the Water and Light Board for taking water across the river, and the one which seems satisfactory to the residents in West Brainerd is that of installing mains without the necessity of grading the streets through which these mains pass.

Mrs. J. H. Herbert Addressed Council

Mrs. J. H. Herbert of Northeast Brainerd, appeared before the council with a recommendation from the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League, for the renaming of the streets in that part of the city. She stated that this movement did not come from residents of Northeast Brainerd, but was first requested by outside people, who found it difficult to familiarize themselves with the names of the streets.

Mrs. Herbert presented a plan for the renaming of these streets, numbering the avenues that run north and south and naming the streets alphabetically that run east and west. Her report was accepted by the council and referred to the street committee.

A request was received from Judge J. H. Warner of the municipal court, asking that bail given in the case against Fred Goltz, and held in lieu of a fine, be refunded. This request was granted.

Lateral Sewer in Block 8

P. M. Bisiar addressed the council in regard to a lateral sewer in block 8, Sleepers addition, and requested that it be put in condition so that it will not freeze this winter as it has in the past. The sewer is located in the alley west of 12th street between Norwood and Maple streets. On motion, the sewer is to be relaid at once as suggested by the city engineer.

Auditing City Accounts

A communication was read from the Charles H. Preston & Co., chartered accountants, in which an offer was made to audit the city accounts at the rate of $15 per day and expenses. On motion it was agreed to secure this company to make such an audit as may seem best in the judgment of President H. F. Michael and chairman of the finance committee, C. H. Paine. It was agreed that an audit should be taken particularly of the permanent improvement fund, the permanent improvement revolving fund, and the sewer construction fund.

Educational Extension Course

A resolution was received from the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League approving an educational extension course for the adults of Brainerd, such as could be given in an evening school. The league asked the approval and cooperation of all other city organizations in this movement. The resolution was accepted and ordered filed.

Grade Crossing Proposed

A resolution was received from the same source in regard to the matter of establishing a grade crossing for the Northern Pacific tracks between Northeast and Southeast Brainerd, and pointing out the necessity of such a crossing. On motion the chair was empowered to appoint a committee of three to take up this matter with the railway company and see what can be done in the near future, this committee to report back to the council.

Council is Complimented

A third resolution was received from the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League, complimenting the council for the manner in which the city affairs have been conducted the past season, particularly in grading the streets in certain portions of the city, completing sewers and in passing several important ordinances. The resolution was accepted and ordered filed.

City Reports

The reports of the Water and Light Board for September, and the October reports of the police department, the city nurse, the dairy inspector and the clerk of the municipal court were received, read and ordered filed.

The chief of the fire department made a request for two dozen bottles for the Babcock fire extinguisher, and the matter was referred to the purchasing committee.

Lighting City Parks

The opinion of the city attorney in regard to lighting the parks of the city was read and ordered filed, in this report it was his opinion that the lighting should be done by the park board. The council requested that lights be kept burning especially around the buildings in Gregory park.

The application of Carl Walbolm, for a license to operate a bus line to Northeast Brainerd was received, and the licenses granted.

The assignment of securities for depository of city bonds in the Commercial State Bank was presented and on motion the proper city officials were instructed to execute same on the part of the city.

Cleaning Up Debris At East Hotel

The matter of cleaning up debris on the sidewalk around the East hotel was brought up and the walk ordered cleared, the supervision being put in the hands of the city attorney.

It was ordered that sewer manholes be covered to keep the sewers from freezing.

Smoke Ordinance

The city engineer made a report on the smoke ordinance, citing similar ordinances and the method of their enforcement in Anoka, St. Paul and Minneapolis. In Anoka the smoke nuisance is handled as a nuisance and prosecuted accordingly, in St. Paul it is prosecuted as a breaking of the ordinance, and in Minneapolis, an educational program is first carried on with the industries affected, through the smoke inspector who works with the health police and building committees, and if this does not serve the purpose, the industries are prosecuted as a nuisance through the police department.

On motion, the city engineer was instructed to write the various industries in Brainerd who may be affected, in an effort to get them to assist in complying with the city's smoke ordinance.

The city engineer requested more time on repairing a strip of sidewalk near the Turcotte store, and stated that repairs on South Sixth street will be completed this week.

Sprinkling Charges

Instructions were given the city engineer to prepare his assessment roll for the sprinkling of the downtown streets for the past season, of which the property owners are to pay one-half. The matter of sprinkling the paved streets outside the business district was discussed. These streets can be flushed once each week at a charge of three cents a foot for the season, if the citizens so desire. The city attorney is preparing an article on this subject, which will appear later in the Dispatch.

Removing Frame Building

The matter of removing a frame building standing on South Fifth street directly across from the city hall was brought up and on motion William Larrabee and R. R. Wise are to be notified to remove the building at once.

The rent for the offices occupied by the state highway engineer on the second floor of the city hall building was referred to the proper committee with instructions to set a reasonable rental on these rooms.

One thousand dollars was ordered transferred from the general fund to the bond interest fund.

Current bills that have been approved by the finance committee were ordered paid.

Card of Thanks

I sincerely wish to thank all the kind persons who so gratefully assisted me in my recent bereavement, the loss of my father.

POULTRY SHOW AT GARDNER HALL

Auditorium, Though a Large One, Promises to Have Every Inch of Space Taken

ALSO MANY EXHIBITION COOPS

Secretary Instructed by Association to Buy $200 Worth to House the Many Birds

The Gardner auditorium has been secured in which to hold the 1923 Crow Wing County poultry show, on Wednesday and Thursday, December 5th and 6th. This was decided upon at a meeting of the association Sunday afternoon. The same quarters were used a year ago, and while the auditorium is a large one, every bit of the space was needed.

The secretary was instructed to purchase two hundred dollars worth of exhibition coops. This step in itself is a distinct mark of progress on the part of the association. Heretofore coops have been rented at considerable expense, and the arrangement has not proven at all satisfactory. The association now feels financially able to own its coops, and the most approved type will be ordered at once.

The plan of issuing tickets for the show will be similar to the one used two years ago. Instead of selling tickets direct to those who attend, tickets will be sold to the merchants, who in turn will issue them to their patrons in any manner they see fit. It is the experience of the association that by this method more tickets are distributed and a larger attendance is secured than in any other way.

Committees from the Lions and Rotary clubs will be appointed to wait upon the merchants with these tickets, and it is hoped that the local business men will cooperate to the fullest extent.

The annual poultry show is becoming an event in Brainerd, and is advertising the city far and wide. Last year entries came from long distances, and a great deal of enthusiasm in the exhibition was noticed. It is the intention of the directors to make this year's show much bigger and better than any that have been held in past years, and they ask that Brainerd citizens give the event their hearty support.

St. Pauls Guild

The St. Pauls Guild of the Episcopal church will meet with Mrs. R. T. Campbell 412 North 4th street on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

SECOND LECTURE OF SERIES

Topic Discussed at Gardner Hall Monday Evening Was "The Christ We Forget"

A good crowd gathered in the Gardner auditorium to listen to the second lecture of the series, "The Christ We Forget." Evangelist Anderson drew helpful lessons from the subject, and said: "While Christ loved us well enough to risk all to save us, He went all the way even to death, and now we are graven upon the palms of His hands. His every thought is for His people. And yet day by day we go our ways forgetting and neglecting the Saviour of our souls."

He portrayed the sufferings of Christ how he was marred more than the sons of men, marred in the head, heart, hands and feet: the sacrifice was complete for us. He now asks that we place ourselves in His hands to be made fit to adorn His heavenly kingdom. He wants us to be as clay in the hands of the potter, to be modelled and refined and all dross removed until we shall be vessels unto honor for His use.

Mrs. N. J. Aalborg

The several musical numbers were well received. The violin solo by Mr. Peterson deserves special mention. Mr. and Mrs. Aalborg sang 'The Slighted Stranger.' The illustrated picture song 'The Solid Rock' was sung heartily by all.

Topic for this evening's lecture, "The Book of God and the Man from Heaven-Compared." Good music is promised. An addition of over 200 chairs have been secured from Minneapolis so that all who come will be comfortably seated each evening.

Beside the regular pictures shown in connection with the sermon each evening, there will be special pictures on the life of Christ shown each evening during the week.

CITY WATER FOR WEST BRAINERD

City Council Concurs in Plans Broached by the Water & Light Board

RENAMING OF CITY STREETS

Referred to Street Committee. Chartered Accountants to Audit City Books

The city council, in its regular meeting on Monday night, concurred in the plans of the Water and Light Board for providing city water to West Brainerd. A communication from residents in this section was read at the council meeting, in regard to the water situation there. Several plans have been put forth by the Water and Light Board for taking water across the river, and the one which seems satisfactory to the residents in West Brainerd is that of installing mains without the necessity of grading the streets through which these mains pass.

Mrs. J. H. Herbert Addressed Council

Mrs. J. H. Herbert of Northeast Brainerd, appeared before the council with a recommendation from the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League, for the renaming of the streets in that part of the city. She stated that this movement did not come from residents of Northeast Brainerd, but was first requested by outside people, who found it difficult to familiarize themselves with the names of the streets.

Mrs. Herbert presented a plan for the renaming of these streets, numbering the avenues that run north and south and naming the streets alphabetically that run east and west. Her report was accepted by the council and referred to the street committee.

A request was received from Judge J. H. Warner of the municipal court, asking that bail given in the case against Fred Goltz, and held in lieu of a fine, be refunded. This request was granted.

Lateral Sewer in Block 8

P. M. Bisiar addressed the council in regard to a lateral sewer in block 8, Sleepers addition, and requested that it be put in condition so that it will not freeze this winter as it has in the past. The sewer is located in the alley west of 12th street between Norwood and Maple streets. On motion, the sewer is to be relaid at once as suggested by the city engineer.

Auditing City Accounts

A communication was read from the Charles H. Preston & Co., chartered accountants, in which an offer was made to audit the city accounts at the rate of $15 per day and expenses. On motion it was agreed to secure this company to make such an audit as may seem best in the judgment of President H. F. Michael and chairman of the finance committee, C. H. Paine. It was agreed that an audit should be taken particularly of the permanent improvement fund, the permanent improvement revolving fund, and the sewer construction fund.

Educational Extension Course

A resolution was received from the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League approving an educational extension course for the adults of Brainerd, such as could be given in an evening school. The league asked the approval and cooperation of all other city organizations in this movement. The resolution was accepted and ordered filed.

Grade Crossing Proposed

A resolution was received from the same source in regard to the matter of establishing a grade crossing for the Northern Pacific tracks between Northeast and Southeast Brainerd, and pointing out the necessity of such a crossing. On motion the chair was empowered to appoint a committee of three to take up this matter with the railway company and see what can be done in the near future, this committee to report back to the council.

Council is Complimented

A third resolution was received from the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League, complimenting the council for the manner in which the city affairs have been conducted the past season, particularly in grading the streets in certain portions of the city, completing sewers and in passing several important ordinances. The resolution was accepted and ordered filed.

City Reports

The reports of the Water and Light Board for September, and the October reports of the police department, the city nurse, the dairy inspector and the clerk of the municipal court were received, read and ordered filed.

The chief of the fire department made a request for two dozen bottles for the Babcock fire extinguisher, and the matter was referred to the purchasing committee.

Lighting City Parks

The opinion of the city attorney in regard to lighting the parks of the city was read and ordered filed, in this report it was his opinion that the lighting should be done by the park board. The council requested that lights be kept burning especially around the buildings in Gregory park.

The application of Carl Walbolm, for a license to operate a bus line to Northeast Brainerd was received, and the licenses granted.

The assignment of securities for depository of city bonds in the Commercial State Bank was presented and on motion the proper city officials were instructed to execute same on the part of the city.

Cleaning Up Debris At East Hotel

The matter of cleaning up debris on the sidewalk around the East hotel was brought up and the walk ordered cleared, the supervision being put in the hands of the city attorney.

It was ordered that sewer manholes be covered to keep the sewers from freezing.

Smoke Ordinance

The city engineer made a report on the smoke ordinance, citing similar ordinances and the method of their enforcement in Anoka, St. Paul and Minneapolis. In Anoka the smoke nuisance is handled as a nuisance and prosecuted accordingly, in St. Paul it is prosecuted as a breaking of the ordinance, and in Minneapolis, an educational program is first carried on with the industries affected, through the smoke inspector who works with the health police and building committees, and if this does not serve the purpose, the industries are prosecuted as a nuisance through the police department.

On motion, the city engineer was instructed to write the various industries in Brainerd who may be affected, in an effort to get them to assist in complying with the city's smoke ordinance.

The city engineer requested more time on repairing a strip of sidewalk near the Turcotte store, and stated that repairs on South Sixth street will be completed this week.

Sprinkling Charges

Instructions were given the city engineer to prepare his assessment roll for the sprinkling of the downtown streets for the past season, of which the property owners are to pay one-half. The matter of sprinkling the paved streets outside the business district was discussed. These streets can be flushed once each week at a charge of three cents a foot for the season, if the citizens so desire. The city attorney is preparing an article on this subject, which will appear later in the Dispatch.

Removing Frame Building

The matter of removing a frame building standing on South Fifth street directly across from the city hall was brought up and on motion William Larrabee and R. R. Wise are to be notified to remove the building at once.

The rent for the offices occupied by the state highway engineer on the second floor of the city hall building was referred to the proper committee with instructions to set a reasonable rental on these rooms.

One thousand dollars was ordered transferred from the general fund to the bond interest fund.

Current bills that have been approved by the finance committee were ordered paid.

Card of Thanks

I sincerely wish to thank all the kind persons who so gratefully assisted me in my recent bereavement, the loss of my father.

POULTRY SHOW AT GARDNER HALL

Auditorium, Though a Large One, Promises to Have Every Inch of Space Taken

ALSO MANY EXHIBITION COOPS

Secretary Instructed by Association to Buy $200 Worth to House the Many Birds

The Gardner auditorium has been secured in which to hold the 1923 Crow Wing County poultry show, on Wednesday and Thursday, December 5th and 6th. This was decided upon at a meeting of the association Sunday afternoon. The same quarters were used a year ago, and while the auditorium is a large one, every bit of the space was needed.

The secretary was instructed to purchase two hundred dollars worth of exhibition coops. This step in itself is a distinct mark of progress on the part of the association. Heretofore coops have been rented at considerable expense, and the arrangement has not proven at all satisfactory. The association now feels financially able to own its coops, and the most approved type will be ordered at once.

The plan of issuing tickets for the show will be similar to the one used two years ago. Instead of selling tickets direct to those who attend, tickets will be sold to the merchants, who in turn will issue them to their patrons in any manner they see fit. It is the experience of the association that by this method more tickets are distributed and a larger attendance is secured than in any other way.

Committees from the Lions and Rotary clubs will be appointed to wait upon the merchants with these tickets, and it is hoped that the local business men will cooperate to the fullest extent.

The annual poultry show is becoming an event in Brainerd, and is advertising the city far and wide. Last year entries came from long distances, and a great deal of enthusiasm in the exhibition was noticed. It is the intention of the directors to make this year's show much bigger and better than any that have been held in past years, and they ask that Brainerd citizens give the event their hearty support.

St. Pauls Guild

The St. Pauls Guild of the Episcopal church will meet with Mrs. R. T. Campbell 412 North 4th street on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

SECOND LECTURE OF SERIES

Topic Discussed at Gardner Hall Monday Evening Was "The Christ We Forget"

A good crowd gathered in the Gardner auditorium to listen to the second lecture of the series, "The Christ We Forget." Evangelist Anderson drew helpful lessons from the subject, and said: "While Christ loved us well enough to risk all to save us, He went all the way even to death, and now we are graven upon the palms of His hands. His every thought is for His people. And yet day by day we go our ways forgetting and neglecting the Saviour of our souls."

He portrayed the sufferings of Christ how he was marred more than the sons of men, marred in the head, heart, hands and feet: the sacrifice was complete for us. He now asks that we place ourselves in His hands to be made fit to adorn His heavenly kingdom. He wants us to be as clay in the hands of the potter, to be modelled and refined and all dross removed until we shall be vessels unto honor for His use.

Mrs. N. J. Aalborg

The several musical numbers were well received. The violin solo by Mr. Peterson deserves special mention. Mr. and Mrs. Aalborg sang 'The Slighted Stranger.' The illustrated picture song 'The Solid Rock' was sung heartily by all.

Topic for this evening's lecture, "The Book of God and the Man from Heaven-Compared." Good music is promised. An addition of over 200 chairs have been secured from Minneapolis so that all who come will be comfortably seated each evening.

Beside the regular pictures shown in connection with the sermon each evening, there will be special pictures on the life of Christ shown each evening during the week.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL LEADS IN SPORTSMANSHIP

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 6.—Sportsmanship is not confined to any particular line of activity on the field. Ethics of some sports are considered higher and are more generally respected and observed than in others.

Tennis, polo and golf, the more fashionable sports, are generally looked upon as those sports in which the competitor always grants the advantage of the doubt to his opponent.

Baseball permits judgment on only two doubts—in case of a question give the batter a hit instead of an error to the fielder and in a close decision on the bases favor the runner.

Ethics are carried to extremes in some sports. Bill Tilden, as the leader of tennis, went so far in being a sport that he tossed away a whole set in the recent Davis Cup matches to Jim Anderson because Tilden thought he had been given a break by a bad decision of a line judge.

For all around sportsmanship, for the general prevalence of "square deal" and gentlemanly conduct, collegiate football will rank with any of the popular American sports.

Little contrasts cropping out from time to time make some other sports suffer in comparison to the greatest of all college games.

Rowdy days are supposed to have passed in professional baseball, the so-called national pastime. There are few pitched battles on the field, instances of slugging under the grandstands are widely scattered since the type of player engaged in the game began to be elevated, but the spirit back of the players still carries a little of the old flavor.

"We'll cut that bird down if we get a chance," one of the Giant players said during the world's series about Babe Ruth.

Ruth, the Yankee star, had been charged by the Giants with going into the bases with his feet up. In baseball that is considered an overt act.

The Babe was not "cut down" during the series. Perhaps it was not because the chance was not afforded, because Ruth was on the bases often. It might have been that Ruth is rather large and capable with his fists and the player who resorts to "cutting down" is ordinarily not of the type that is willing "to go" in open combat.

It is not unethical in professional baseball for a competitor to take advantage of the physical weakness of an opponent. Neither is it that way in boxing. The stakes are too high in professional sports for the competitor to think of anyone but himself.

REICHEL TUMBLES 298 IN TOURNAMENT PLAY

Minneapolis, Nov. 6.—Leo Reichel, star bowler of the City league, proved the sensation of the doubles tournament at the Fush and LaFleur alleys when he hammered the maples for a 298 score in his second game.

Eleven times in the second setto Reichel stepped to the firing line and as many times put his mineralite in the pocket for a strike. The break came in the 12th frame. With the law of averages against him, even a perfect hit didn't bring the desired result and a perfect count. Two pins refused to leave their upright position and the scorer marked up a 298.

But Leo gathered honors enough for one day. He totaled 625 and with his partner, Mike Comer, won second honors and $40 with a total of 1,218.

Ward Rhea and Howard Lanphear were the winners. They collected $60 on their 1,333 total. Rhea scored 257, 246 and 182. Lanphear's counts were 213, 212 and 223.

Six players in addition to the leaders totaled above 600. Abraham had 627, Al Jurgenson 616, Kraill 617, Plack 619, Bob Murphy 615 and Mattson 617.

DELANEY SIGNED FOR 3 BOUTS IN 8 DAYS

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul has been signed for three bouts within eight days in California. On November 6, he tackles Martin Burke at Vernon, Nov. 7, Williams at San Diego and Nov. 13, Bert Colima at Vernon. All three are four round contests.

Stewart McLean and Johnny O'Donell, also of St. Paul will be in action. O'Donnell meets Joe Layman Nov. 6, and Billy McCann Nov. 9. Stewart McLean is matched for four rounds with Al Robidoux.

FIRPO DISAPPOINTED IN 9,000 ATTENDANCE

Lima, Peru, Nov. 6.—Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine heavyweight, gave an exhibition here last evening, boxing four rounds each with his sparring partners, Pera and Ress. The box office receipts proved a disappointment to him as only 9,000 persons could be induced to pay the high admission fee to witness an exhibition. The spectators gave Firpo an ovation.

STRIKE OF COOKS FORCES JACK TO SELL LARGE HOME

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 6.—Friends of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, say the champion's real reason for leaving his elaborately furnished 16 room house here to live in a small apartment is because he can't keep a cook. The reason, they explain, is that when he lives in the big house too many admiring acquaintances drop in for dinner. Dempsey enjoys having eight or ten friends in for dinner, but no cook does.

W. H. FAWCETT WINS HIGH HONORS

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—W. H. Fawcett won high honors in the regular event at the Fort Snelling traps Sunday, when he scored 47 breaks out of a possible 50. C. Bedson won the leg on the Dr. Amesbury trophy with 24 breaks out of 25. G. M. Deck was high in the doubles event with 18 breaks.

Hm-m-m

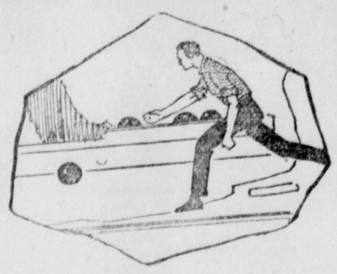

Mrs. Cohen was very popular. Cohen was blindly in love, but jealous enough to find cause to write to young Issac Levy as follows:

"Dear Levy: You have been making love to my wife. Meet me in my office, 2 P. M., Jan 31. Cohen."

Levy replied:

"Dear Cohen: Your circular letter received. I will be at the meeting you have called. Levy."

ALLEY RUMBLINGS

Some wonderful scores featured the opening games in the Straightaway league last evening. The Frank & James club piled up the nice total of 2684 pins, defeating the Smraker Bros. crew three straight games. Elmer Johnson led the attack on the setups with the splendid three-game total of 620 pins, 255 of which he corralled in the second game for high game count of the evening and probably the season. The Smraker boys were decidedly off form in last night's competition.

The Alderman-Maghan team took the Crow Wing Clouters into camp for three games. The hardware clan also chalked up high single game when they disturbed the timber for 925 pins in the final setto. The Clouters were somewhat handicapped through the absence of two players and had to roll dummies in their place.

Four men succeeded in topping the 200 mark. They were: Johnson, 255; Ziebell, 221; Demmers, 219, and Guinn, 201.

The scores follow:

"MAN OVERBOARD" GRID GAME STOPPED

Oklahoma City, Nov. 6.—Play in the Guthrie-Oklahoma City high school football game was held up 10 minutes when Gross, a Guthrie player, was rolled on a barrel after being downed in a pool of water on the field.

Zev and My Own May Still Meet With No Outsider to Upset Dope

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Harry F. Sinclair, who was in Chicago with a party of friends, still clings to his original statement made after the race at Latonia Saturday, that for one day, at least, Zev had met a better horse.

Colonel J. W. Zeverly, the Oklahoma oil operator, for whom Zev was named, accompanied Mr. Sinclair and appeared to be more disappointed over the defeat than did Mr. Sinclair.

Zev and My Own were shipped from Latonia Sunday, both going to Maryland, where, according to Mr. Sinclair, Zev will start at least once more this year, and may engage in two or three stakes, and if Admiral Grayson desires to start him again this year it is possible the pair may meet again before the fall season ends.

Mr. Sinclair would not confirm nor deny the report that he had lost $63,000 on Saturday's race.

"Zev never looked better to me than he did before Saturday's race," he said. "He came out of it in good condition, and I have no excuses to offer."

Price

"Yes," said the specialist, as he stood at the bedside of the sick purchasing agent. "I can cure you."

"What will it cost?" asked the sick man, faintly.

"Five hundred dollars."

"You'll have to shade your price a little," replied the purchasing agent. "I had a better bid from the undertaker."

Nail From Air Rifle Taken From Boy's Brain

Paul Griminger, 11 years old, who has been discharged from a Philadelphia hospital after a most delicate operation. Playing with an air rifle which had been loaded with a four-penny nail instead of shot, the rifle was discharged and the nail entered the boy's brain at a depth of five inches. By means of a fluroscope and pincers, the nail was removed, but the youngster lost the sight of his left eye. The insert is an X-ray of the boy's head, showing where the nail was located.

Holiday Meals

As the holiday season nears it is no longer necessary to take down the trusty rifle and go out to hunt for your turkey, goose, or other holiday meats.

Civilization has driven these from your haunts. At the same time, however, civilization has provided for you even more bountifully than did nature in the old days, and modern efficiency and service have removed the hazards that once attended the securing of those early meals.

Today, Swift & Company brings to your retailer, whether he is in village, town, or city, the kind and quality of meat you desire. This service also makes available to you Swift's Premium Milk-Fed Chickens, Golden West Fatted Fowl (both identifiable by tags), turkeys, ducks, and geese.

Skill and care in feeding and handling, coupled with the efficiency of the packing plant, branch house, and car route, thus assure you of the best to be had, whether you live near centers of production or hundreds of miles away.

Our profit from all sources averages only a fraction of a cent per pound.

FOOTBALL LEADS IN SPORTSMANSHIP

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 6.—Sportsmanship is not confined to any particular line of activity on the field. Ethics of some sports are considered higher and are more generally respected and observed than in others.

Tennis, polo and golf, the more fashionable sports, are generally looked upon as those sports in which the competitor always grants the advantage of the doubt to his opponent.

Baseball permits judgment on only two doubts—in case of a question give the batter a hit instead of an error to the fielder and in a close decision on the bases favor the runner.

Ethics are carried to extremes in some sports. Bill Tilden, as the leader of tennis, went so far in being a sport that he tossed away a whole set in the recent Davis Cup matches to Jim Anderson because Tilden thought he had been given a break by a bad decision of a line judge.

For all around sportsmanship, for the general prevalence of "square deal" and gentlemanly conduct, collegiate football will rank with any of the popular American sports.

Little contrasts cropping out from time to time make some other sports suffer in comparison to the greatest of all college games.

Rowdy days are supposed to have passed in professional baseball, the so-called national pastime. There are few pitched battles on the field, instances of slugging under the grandstands are widely scattered since the type of player engaged in the game began to be elevated, but the spirit back of the players still carries a little of the old flavor.

"We'll cut that bird down if we get a chance," one of the Giant players said during the world's series about Babe Ruth.

Ruth, the Yankee star, had been charged by the Giants with going into the bases with his feet up. In baseball that is considered an overt act.

The Babe was not "cut down" during the series. Perhaps it was not because the chance was not afforded, because Ruth was on the bases often. It might have been that Ruth is rather large and capable with his fists and the player who resorts to "cutting down" is ordinarily not of the type that is willing "to go" in open combat.

It is not unethical in professional baseball for a competitor to take advantage of the physical weakness of an opponent. Neither is it that way in boxing. The stakes are too high in professional sports for the competitor to think of anyone but himself.

REICHEL TUMBLES 298 IN TOURNAMENT PLAY

Minneapolis, Nov. 6.—Leo Reichel, star bowler of the City league, proved the sensation of the doubles tournament at the Fush and LaFleur alleys when he hammered the maples for a 298 score in his second game.

Eleven times in the second setto Reichel stepped to the firing line and as many times put his mineralite in the pocket for a strike. The break came in the 12th frame. With the law of averages against him, even a perfect hit didn't bring the desired result and a perfect count. Two pins refused to leave their upright position and the scorer marked up a 298.

But Leo gathered honors enough for one day. He totaled 625 and with his partner, Mike Comer, won second honors and $40 with a total of 1,218.

Ward Rhea and Howard Lanphear were the winners. They collected $60 on their 1,333 total. Rhea scored 257, 246 and 182. Lanphear's counts were 213, 212 and 223.

Six players in addition to the leaders totaled above 600. Abraham had 627, Al Jurgenson 616, Kraill 617, Plack 619, Bob Murphy 615 and Mattson 617.

DELANEY SIGNED FOR 3 BOUTS IN 8 DAYS

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul has been signed for three bouts within eight days in California. On November 6, he tackles Martin Burke at Vernon, Nov. 7, Williams at San Diego and Nov. 13, Bert Colima at Vernon. All three are four round contests.

Stewart McLean and Johnny O'Donell, also of St. Paul will be in action. O'Donnell meets Joe Layman Nov. 6, and Billy McCann Nov. 9. Stewart McLean is matched for four rounds with Al Robidoux.

FIRPO DISAPPOINTED IN 9,000 ATTENDANCE

Lima, Peru, Nov. 6.—Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine heavyweight, gave an exhibition here last evening, boxing four rounds each with his sparring partners, Pera and Ress. The box office receipts proved a disappointment to him as only 9,000 persons could be induced to pay the high admission fee to witness an exhibition. The spectators gave Firpo an ovation.

STRIKE OF COOKS FORCES JACK TO SELL LARGE HOME

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 6.—Friends of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, say the champion's real reason for leaving his elaborately furnished 16 room house here to live in a small apartment is because he can't keep a cook. The reason, they explain, is that when he lives in the big house too many admiring acquaintances drop in for dinner. Dempsey enjoys having eight or ten friends in for dinner, but no cook does.

W. H. FAWCETT WINS HIGH HONORS

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—W. H. Fawcett won high honors in the regular event at the Fort Snelling traps Sunday, when he scored 47 breaks out of a possible 50. C. Bedson won the leg on the Dr. Amesbury trophy with 24 breaks out of 25. G. M. Deck was high in the doubles event with 18 breaks.

Hm-m-m

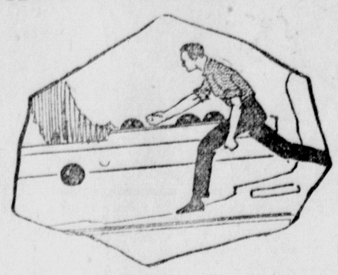

Mrs. Cohen was very popular. Cohen was blindly in love, but jealous enough to find cause to write to young Issac Levy as follows:

"Dear Levy: You have been making love to my wife. Meet me in my office, 2 P. M., Jan 31. Cohen."

Levy replied:

"Dear Cohen: Your circular letter received. I will be at the meeting you have called. Levy."

ALLEY RUMBLINGS

Some wonderful scores featured the opening games in the Straightaway league last evening. The Frank & James club piled up the nice total of 2684 pins, defeating the Smraker Bros. crew three straight games. Elmer Johnson led the attack on the setups with the splendid three-game total of 620 pins, 255 of which he corralled in the second game for high game count of the evening and probably the season. The Smraker boys were decidedly off form in last night's competition.

The Alderman-Maghan team took the Crow Wing Clouters into camp for three games. The hardware clan also chalked up high single game when they disturbed the timber for 925 pins in the final setto. The Clouters were somewhat handicapped through the absence of two players and had to roll dummies in their place.

Four men succeeded in topping the 200 mark. They were: Johnson, 255; Ziebell, 221; Demmers, 219, and Guinn, 201.

The scores follow:

"MAN OVERBOARD" GRID GAME STOPPED

Oklahoma City, Nov. 6.—Play in the Guthrie-Oklahoma City high school football game was held up 10 minutes when Gross, a Guthrie player, was rolled on a barrel after being downed in a pool of water on the field.

Zev and My Own May Still Meet With No Outsider to Upset Dope

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Harry F. Sinclair, who was in Chicago with a party of friends, still clings to his original statement made after the race at Latonia Saturday, that for one day, at least, Zev had met a better horse.

Colonel J. W. Zeverly, the Oklahoma oil operator, for whom Zev was named, accompanied Mr. Sinclair and appeared to be more disappointed over the defeat than did Mr. Sinclair.

Zev and My Own were shipped from Latonia Sunday, both going to Maryland, where, according to Mr. Sinclair, Zev will start at least once more this year, and may engage in two or three stakes, and if Admiral Grayson desires to start him again this year it is possible the pair may meet again before the fall season ends.

Mr. Sinclair would not confirm nor deny the report that he had lost $63,000 on Saturday's race.

"Zev never looked better to me than he did before Saturday's race," he said. "He came out of it in good condition, and I have no excuses to offer."

Price

"Yes," said the specialist, as he stood at the bedside of the sick purchasing agent. "I can cure you."

"What will it cost?" asked the sick man, faintly.

"Five hundred dollars."

"You'll have to shade your price a little," replied the purchasing agent. "I had a better bid from the undertaker."

Nail From Air Rifle Taken From Boy's Brain

Paul Griminger, 11 years old, who has been discharged from a Philadelphia hospital after a most delicate operation. Playing with an air rifle which had been loaded with a four-penny nail instead of shot, the rifle was discharged and the nail entered the boy's brain at a depth of five inches. By means of a fluroscope and pincers, the nail was removed, but the youngster lost the sight of his left eye. The insert is an X-ray of the boy's head, showing where the nail was located.
